Opening Ceremony
March 27, 2009
11:00 a.m.–12:00 noon

- Jó napot kívánok.
- Kosonom szépen, Mr. Csík.
- Kedves barátaim. Nagyon örülök, hogy itt lehetek. Köszönöm a meghívást.
- Today we celebrate the opening of the new C-Press Cultural, Media and Art Center headquarters. This is a great day for the Roma community!
- I congratulate Mr. Csík and everyone else who has worked so hard to make this initiative a reality.
- The C-Press headquarters will fill an important role in the Hungarian society. It will give a voice to the Roma people. It will ensure that important community issues receive the attention they deserve.
- It will also serve as a center of Roma culture. People can come to share their stories and learn about the important contributions the Roma community makes every day.
- I am confident that those who enter the center will leave with a greater appreciation for the Roma people and their proud traditions.
- We might think of this new headquarters as a “knowledge center” – a place where people from all backgrounds will come to learn and be inspired; a place where people’s minds will be informed and their hearts will be enlightened.
- The knowledge people gain from this center will help to shape the way society views the Roma people. It will break down barriers and challenge false stereotypes. It will advance the Roma cause.
- The U.S. Embassy is proud to contribute to your success. When we learned of your request for furniture to help your center begin operating, we were thrilled to be able to donate the items you see around us.

- I hope that this modest contribution will help you form a solid foundation that you will continue to build on in the future.
- I wish you great success!
- Gratulálok és köszönöm megtisztelő figyelmüket!
